Week Commencing: 11.10.21

Oak View School is always a hive of activity!

There is always something exciting going on in each class that I visit. I am always proud to show prospective parents around our school and it is lovely to get wonderful feedback about how our pupils interact with visitors, the sessions they see the pupils engaging with and the friendliness of the staff.

On Wednesday the school community wore green to raise awareness and in support of our friends at school who have cerebral palsy. On Thursday it was National Poetry Day. Each class chose a different poem and took part in activities connected to the poem! Photos in the usual places to follow soon.
