Week Commencing: 28.2.22

It was lovely to see lots of parents and guardians this week during parents evening to celebrate your young persons achievements. Being able to offer the phone consultation as an alternative to coming on to site also has meant that we were able to engage a larger number of families.

There was great excitement here on Monday when our duck eggs arrived for us all to watch the process of egg to duck over the following 10 days. 4 ducklings have arrived so far with classes exploring the shells and the ducklings themselves! Photos will follow once they return to the farm on Thursday.

We are looking forward to celebrating World Book Day next Friday. A book voucher will be sent home for pupils to use to maybe purchase a new story book! -Tina Kearney, Head Teacher

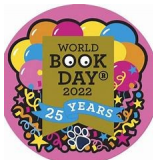

Upcoming dates;

1.3.22 Pancake Day / St David's Day

4.3.22 World Book Day Come dressed as a book character!

17.3.22 St Patricks Day

18.3.22 Red Nose Day Details to be confirmed

World Book Day

Thursday is the official World Book day 2022. However we are celebrating the day on Friday 4th March. It is a chance for the school to enjoy a day of story activities whilst dressed as our favourite characters! There are lots and lots of book characters that don't require shop bought items/costumes. We just want everyone to enjoy the day and immerse themselves in stories!

SEND Roadshows

Please see the attached flyer about the SEND Roadshows for our area happening soon.

These are a good opportunity to meet other agencies that may be able to help with your child as well as other parents!

Anna Middleton, one of our parents, has kindly said she is happy to organise a lift for anyone who would like to attend but is reluctant to go on their own. Please let the office know and we can get a message to Anna.

Photo Competition

Congratulations to George in Olive class for the winning entry. Reading in an empty bath is definitely an unusual place!

Birthdays that have just been and are coming up : McCartney (Red)

Enjoy your special Day!
