Week Commencing: 11.7.22

Did you know that this month is Disability Pride Month. Although this originated in America 30 years ago, it is now an event that is celebrated across the world. Our parent Governor, Mandy Aulak, brought it to my attention.....In her blog she writes:

"Pride in the context of disability will mean different things to different people. Some say it's about being visible, others say it's a month to celebrate each other's uniqueness and take pride in who we are; being disabled gives a unique perspective of the world and can make disabled people great problem solvers and innovative thinkers- skills which have been honed over the years to overcome many obstacles faced in daily life."
